If you embody the Mentoring Process, you may find yourself being described as passionate, mysterious, a deep thinker, introverted, but also incredibly loyal. Individuals with a Mentoring Process are able to use their mastery and invoke symbolism in their process-- underneath their exterior is a passion for their craft. When leaning into the types of fun, you don't mind facing some sort of struggle for the overall experience. You are always looking for traditionally overall fun experiences and experiences that will help build character.

Those with a strong Mentoring Process often find themselves partaking in symbolic, recapitulative, and mastery types of play. Symbolic play is using objects or actions to represent other objects or actions. Recapitulative play is about exploring rituals, fire, darkness, and the history of what you are doing. Mastery play is about control of the physical and affective ingredients of environments and playing with the elements of the Earth.

DESCRIPTION

Creating for the Mentoring Process consists of curiosity, challenge, immersion, sensation, and flow. You are the type of person wanting to know what is in the box, what happens next, and what is around the corner. Challenges help you attain a sense of achievement. You are able to completely immerse yourself in other worlds. You find joy in the physical sensations, smell, touch, etc. You can lose yourself in activities that light you up.

Business for those with a Mentoring Process can be supportive since you love to be a master at your craft and running your own business allows you to become a master of whatever you want. You like the challenges that business brings forth and you may often find yourself totally enveloped by your business when it lights you up.
